MEMETRĚSHKA: DIANA PANCHENKO
THE BLACK MARK: FEEDBACK FROM A NIKOLAEV AUTHOR
I DEMAND A SCIENTIFIC BASIS, NOT EMOTIONAL LABELS

DIANA IS A DECENT PERSON. SHE IS A MOTHER. SHE HAS THE RIGHT TO SPEAK. SHE HAS THE RIGHT TO AN INTERVIEW. HUMANELY. WITHOUT PR. WITHOUT SHOW.

1 WHAT IS THE "BLACK MARK"? PROVE IT SCIENTIFICALLY!

BLACK MARK

- ON WHAT GROUNDS WAS THE DECISION MADE?
- WHERE IS THE SCIENTIFIC BASIS?
- WHERE IS THE TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY?
- WHO DECIDES FOR ME WHAT I CAN WATCH?

THIS IS NOT ANALYSIS. THIS IS CENSORSHIP IN DISGUISE.

"A man is like grass; his days are like a wildflower..." (Psalm 102:15)

2 MY QUESTIONS TO THE AUTHORS OF THE "BLACK MARK"

PRIMARY SOURCES
Which sources? Links? Timestamps? Full corpus?

STATISTICAL TESTS
Which tests? How many observations? p-values? Metrics? Confidence intervals? Statistical power?

REFERENCE BASE
What is the baseline? Which journalists were compared? Which languages? Which time period?

ANOMALY CHECK
Did you test for anomalies? Does Diana have unique topics?

PEER REVIEW
Independent experts? Do they agree? Who are they?

REPRODUCIBILITY
If others use the same data, will they get the same results?

CONFLICT OF INTEREST
Who is the client? Who is paid? Are there personal or political interests?

3 SCIENCE VS. LABELS

NOT EMOTIONS NOT PRESSURE NOT OPINION → VERIFIABILITY

TYPE I ERROR
WRONG PERSON GETS LABELLED (FALSE POSITIVE)

TYPE II ERROR
REAL VIOLATOR GOES FREE (FALSE NEGATIVE)

WHO CHECKS THE CHECKERS?
WITHOUT CONTROL, THE SYSTEM CLOSES IN A CIRCLE OF LIES.

I DEMAND AN OPEN AUDIT OF THE PROCESS, DATA AND METHODS!

4 MY RIGHT AS A CITIZEN

CONSTITUTION
THE RIGHT TO FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND CHOICE

TRIANGULATION
DIFFERENT SOURCES - A WHOLE PICTURE

WITHOUT TRIANGULATION
CHOICE BLINDLY - LIKE DIVINATION FROM COFFEE GROUNDS

RESTRICTING ACCESS TO INFORMATION VIOLATES MY RIGHTS!

FINAL QUESTION
WHAT WOULD MAKE YOU CHANGE YOUR MIND?

ANSWER BEFORE GOD, PEOPLE AND SCIENCE.
LABELS DON'T MATTER - TRUTH DOES.

PRINCIPLES OF A FAIR AUDIT

- TRANSPARENCY
- VERIFIABILITY
- REPRODUCIBILITY
- INDEPENDENCE
- ACCOUNTABILITY
- CONFLICT CHECK
- FAIRNESS
- HONESTY

A WORD OF HONOR
NOT AGAINST PEOPLE. NOT AGAINST LIES. NOT AGAINST DIANA. FOR THE TRUTH.

NIKOLAEV AUTHOR: ENOUGH OF OTHERS MAKING DECISIONS FOR ME. PROVIDE THE DATA - OR ADMIT THIS IS ALL JUST YOUR FEARS AND SETTINGS.

From “journalism” to FIMI: EU sanctions Diana Panchenko

The European Union has adopted a new round of sanctions aimed at countering Russia's ongoing hybrid threats, including foreign information manipulation and interference (FIMI) and malicious cyber activity targeting the EU, its member states and partner countries. The latest decision lists twelve individuals and two entities involved in coordinated disinformation campaigns, propaganda networks and cyber operations linked to Russian state interests.

The listings form part of a broader EU effort to address information warfare as a core element of modern conflict, alongside military, cyber and economic tools. Among those sanctioned in this package is Diana Panchenko, a Ukrainian-born journalist identified by the EU as a pro-Kremlin propagandist.

Framing propaganda as journalism

Panchenko produces and spreads anti-Ukrainian, pro-Russian and anti-NATO narratives that closely mirror official Kremlin messaging. She frames her work as “exposing corruption”, with her primary targets being the Ukrainian leadership and, in particular, President Volodymyr Zelenskyy. Her content consistently portrays Ukrainian authorities as “Nazis”, accusing them of betraying their own population.

A key feature of her work is the deliberate imitation of professional news broadcasts. By copying the visual style and tone of television journalism, Panchenko presents political propaganda as credible reporting — a common tactic in modern influence operations designed to mislead audiences and legitimise false narratives.

 Post

Before launching her current media activities, Panchenko worked for NewsOne, a television channel that was part of the Novonyi media group, which was unofficially controlled by Ukrainian politician Viktor Medvedchuk. Medvedchuk is a close ally of Vladimir Putin and has played a central role in building pro-Kremlin media operations, including more recent efforts to establish similar outlets abroad, such as in Serbia.

Content from occupied territories and online amplification

Panchenko has also produced content in Russian-occupied areas of Ukraine, including Mariupol and Donetsk. Ukrainian authorities have described this material as propaganda that helps justify Russian war crimes. Her role in information warfare was further highlighted when her content was broadcast on Ukrainian television during a Russian cyber attack that disrupted normal programming.

In addition to video production, Panchenko maintains a large online presence. She runs a Telegram channel with more than 400,000 subscribers and an X (formerly Twitter) account with around 148,000 followers. On X, she increasingly targets English-speaking audiences using clickbait content, coordinated amplification and the promotion of pro-Russian accounts — tactics commonly associated with influence operations rather than independent journalism.

Part of a broader EU response to FIMI

The EU concluded that Panchenko is responsible for supporting actions attributable to the Government of the Russian Federation that undermine Ukraine's security and stability through information manipulation and interference. Her designation forms part of a broader sanctions package targeting FIMI-related actors, including individuals and structures involved in coordinated disinformation campaigns, propaganda production and hybrid operations aligned with Russian state interests.

Panchenko's case illustrates how modern influence operations increasingly rely on individuals who present themselves as independent journalists while actively amplifying authoritarian narratives. By sanctioning such actors, the EU aims to raise the cost of participation in hostile information campaigns and strengthen resilience against foreign manipulation of the public information space.

Systemic Risk & Categorical Asymmetry

<https://t.co/LiVZTx9wCn>

[SKIG: Skin In The Game (c) N. Taleb]

#A <https://t.co/jQls4PULfh>

Concluding Observation: The Inversion of Skin in the Game

In 2018, Nassim Taleb wrote: "The most harmful mistake made about risk is to think that it is localized in the decision-maker."

Our analysis demonstrates that in the context of modern geopolitical conflict, the inverse has become the structural law:

The most harmful structural feature of modern conflict is that risk is NOT localized in the decision-maker.

1. The Statistical Signature of Asymmetry

The data structure is unambiguous. Decision-makers do not exist on a risk-power gradient; they cluster into discrete categories with radically different exposure profiles.

- Massive Group Divergence: One-way ANOVA confirms groups are statistically distinct populations ($F = 19.3, p < 0.001$$).
- The Categorical Cliff: The distance between the "Exposed" (Zelensky) and "Insulated/Inverted" (Western Leaders/CEOs) is extreme, with Cohen's d effect sizes of 3.2 to 4.6—exceeding the "large" threshold by a factor of four.

2. From Principal-Agent Problem to Catastrophe

We are not merely observing a standard misalignment of incentives; we are witnessing a Principal-Agent Catastrophe defined by two terminal features:

- Convex Upside: For Tier 4 actors (Defense CEOs), profits accelerate (convexity) as conflict severity reaches existential levels ($R^2 = 0.82$ for quadratic models vs. 0.55 for linear).
- Asymmetric Downside Protection: While deciders capture the convexity of volatility, their personal downside is capped by institutional floors. Even in cases of termination or failure, contractual exit packages ensure "floors" of $15M to $55M, effectively externalizing the concavity of loss onto the population.

3. The Policy Emergency

Systems designed with this level of categorical asymmetry (high Risk–Ethics Asymmetry Index) are structurally biased toward protracted conflict and escalation creep. When those who start wars cannot die in them, cannot lose children to them, and in fact profit from them, the system defaults to "strategic optionality" rather than resolution.

"By their fruits you shall know them." The current system produces asymmetry; a viable future requires integrity of consequence.

"It is immoral to be in a position of making forecasts without having a risk of loss." — N.N. Taleb

Dr. Artiom Kovnatsky · February 2026

Systemic Risk & Categorical Asymmetry

Modern conflict is not defined by who holds power — it is defined by who bears the cost of wielding it.

Using the S.V.E. (Systemic Verification Engineering) framework and a multi-AI expert panel, this research quantifies the gap between authority and consequence across 14–30+ geopolitical and corporate actors. The result is unambiguous: this gap is not a gradient. It is a categorical cliff.

Those with the most power to escalate face the least personal cost — creating a structural incentive for protracted engagement and escalation creep.

Summary of Findings

Dimension	Claim / Metric	Result	Interpretation
Statistical Structure	Pearson Correlation (r)	−0.04 (ns)	No gradient — risk does not scale with power
Statistical Structure	ANOVA (F -stat)	19.3 ($p < 0.001$)	Groups are categorically distinct populations
Statistical Structure	Effect Size (Cohen's d)	3.2 – 4.6	The "Categorical Cliff" — near-zero population overlap
Profit Model	Convexity Check	Quadratic $R^2 = 0.82$ vs. Linear $R^2 = 0.55$	Defense profits accelerate with escalation severity
Convexity	Model Validation	Validated	Returns explosive at tail-end events (Severity 80–100)
Executive Risk	"Zero Downside"	Revised	Refined to Asymmetric Downside Protection — floor is $15M–$55M regardless of outcome
Moral Hazard	Principal-Agent Structure	Confirmed	Deciders capture convex upside while externalizing all concavity of loss

Methodology: Fully reproducible via provided prompt chains and AI response logs. All SITG scores (0–100) are heuristic markers, not actuarial measurements.
